

“WEIRD” SURVEY

Please circle 5 kinds of God “weird” that you want to especially ask God to help you work on, so you can change the culture and atmosphere of your world.

1. Living in faith and not fear, rising above anxiety by prayer, truth, and praise
 2. Walking in radical joy by rejoicing in the Lord always and not letting negative actions control me
 3. Hearing God’s voice, discerning and following the promptings of the Holy Spirit as a normal part of my life
 4. Learning to prophesy, speak words of encouragement to people the Holy Spirit gives me to encourage
 5. Breaking isolation, having authentic fellowship with Christians, whom I’m transparent and pray with on a regular basis
 6. Helping me and my family break free from unhealthy practices with social media, and “screen life” so we live in more authentic fellowship with one another
 7. Reigniting my first love for Jesus where I really celebrate Him and sense His closeness throughout the day
 8. Coming out of a closet of fear and timidity to be ready to share my faith with others
 9. Breaking a cycle of unhealthy materialism and spending and living in God’s contentment
 10. Reigniting a new level of intimacy in marriage, finding time and energy and the Holy Spirit’s help to go deeper and be of one heart
 11. Experiencing God encounters and being filled with the Holy Spirit as a regular part of my life
 12. Nurturing my children to have a more passionate and personal walk with Jesus
 13. Becoming a family that is no longer isolated from each other but deeply connected in meaningful conversations and fun activities
 14. Going to the next level of freedom to worship and pray in the flow of the Holy Spirit
 15. Praying boldly for people to be helped in the marketplace or any place in ways I see God moving (venues where I have rarely seen Him working)
 16. Becoming an intentional joyful and generous giver who is making a bigger difference by letting my time, talents, and tithe be used for the Lord
 17. Seeing the “monkey get off my back” in secret areas of my life, where I’m frustrated and angry with myself for compromising. Living with a completely pure mind and clean conscience
 18. Taking new steps in taking the kingdom of God out of my comfort zone in outreach or participation with a dream team or going on a mission trip
 19. Finding the boldness to take steps to accomplish a God dream that I think He has put in my heart in ministry, my career, or other area of my life
 20. Walking in radical forgiveness towards people who’ve hurt me, learning to love as if I had never been hurt
 21. Becoming a student of the Bible, who increasingly knows how to understand, interpret, and apply God’s word, and teach and share it with others
 22. Reaching one and teaching one for Jesus this year
 23. Becoming a person who has the complete peace of God during crisis and anxious times in my family or at work, because I know how to give my burdens completely to God
 24. Being a person not afraid to stand up for truth and speak it in love even if that means I’m not popular or people exclude me
 25. Living completely uncompromised in the area of my sexuality
 26. Finding victory over the crazy schedule I’ve lived, able to say “no” to the good so I can say “yes” to the best
 27. Being a person who brings the culture of the kingdom by the way I reach out to love the lost, the last, and least and those who may completely disagree with what I stand for
 28. Create your own
